Ways to waive the monthly service charge

- Maintain a $2,000 average daily collected balance across the statement cycle.
- Post $1,000 or more in Business Debit Card purchases during the cycle (signature and PIN, domestic and international).
- Operate as a qualifying 501(c)(3) nonprofit; fee automatically waived upon documentation.

ACTIVITY PROFILE

Transaction allowance in context

The 250 free-item allowance accommodates most small-business activity profiles. Businesses that routinely exceed 400 items per cycle or carry sustained balances above $25,000 should consider Business Analyzed Checking, where the Earnings Credit Rate offsets per-item service fees.

Typical monthly transaction items by business profile*WHEN TO GRADUATE TO ANALYZED CHECKING

When monthly volumes consistently exceed 400 items or the business begins using ACH origination, Positive Pay, lockbox, or wholesale remote deposit capture, the Earnings Credit Rate under Analyzed Checking will typically deliver a lower all-in cost. Your Relationship Manager will run a side-by-side comparison on request.

COMMON QUESTIONS

Frequently asked questions

How are free transaction items counted?

We count each posted debit, credit, and deposited item (including ACH entries, check deposits, and checks paid) against the 250-item allowance. Internal transfers between linked Cumulus accounts are not counted. Excess items are billed at $0.40 on the monthly statement.

Can I upgrade to Business Analyzed Checking later?

Yes. Your Relationship Manager can convert the account to Analyzed Checking at the start of the next statement cycle without disrupting account numbers, direct deposits, or ACH authorizations. We will run a three-month side-by-side analysis to confirm the economics.

Is Positive Pay included?

Positive Pay is an optional treasury service priced separately ($35 / month + $0.05 per item). Cumulus recommends Positive Pay for any business that issues more than 25 checks per month.

Do I need a separate account for payroll?

Not required. You may segregate payroll using a Zero Balance Account (ZBA) sub-account linked to this master. ZBA sub-accounts are $25 per month each; funds sweep daily to a zero end-of-day balance.

Can I earn interest on Fundamentals Checking?

Business Fundamentals is a non-interest-bearing DDA. Operating balances above your working-capital needs should be held in a Cumulus Business Money Market, a Business CD, or a Sweep Account.

What happens if I exceed the free cash-deposit allowance?

Cash deposited in excess of $5,000 per cycle is billed at $0.25 per $100. For businesses that routinely deposit more than $25,000 in cash per month, Cumulus recommends armored courier pickup and a cash-vault service arrangement.
