AT A GLANCE

Overview

Cumulus Merchant Services provides card-acceptance and payment-processing infrastructure for businesses across retail, e-commerce, services, and B2B channels. Pricing is structured on an Interchange+ basis: the underlying interchange rate, assessments, and network fees are passed through at cost, with Cumulus's margin transparently itemized each month. This approach eliminates the downgrade-and-surcharge dynamics of tiered pricing plans and typically produces a lower effective rate for merchants with strong card-present or qualifying transaction mix. All merchants receive PCI DSS 4.0 compliant processing with tokenization, point-to-point encryption (P2PE), and EMV / contactless acceptance.

WHY CUMULUS MERCHANT

Key benefits

INTERCHANGE-PLUS TRANSPARENCY Interchange-plus transparency True pass-through of interchange + assessments + network fees; Cumulus margin shown as a single transparent line on each monthly statement.	SAME-DAY FUNDING Same-day funding Cumulus Business Checking clients receive same-day funding on batches settled by 8:00 p.m. ET; automatic reconciliation to the DDA with batch-level detail.
UNIVERSAL ACCEPTANCE Universal acceptance Visa, Mastercard, American Express (OptBlue), Discover, PIN-debit networks, Apple Pay, Google Pay, Samsung Pay, and all major digital wallets.	SECURITY BY DEFAULT Security by default PCI-validated P2PE on every terminal; EMV chip with contactless; tokenization for card-on-file storage; Level 1 service-provider posture reduces merchant scope for SAQ.
CHARGEBACK MANAGEMENT Chargeback management Self-service dispute dashboard with representment workflow, compelling-evidence templates, and chargeback-ratio monitoring; managed service available.	OMNICHANNEL REPORTING Omnichannel reporting Cumulus Merchant Portal consolidates retail, e-commerce, and mobile activity with transaction-level drill-down and BAI2 / camt.053 export.

HOW YOU ARE BILLED

Interchange-plus pricing

Each card transaction is billed at three layers: (1) interchange — paid to the card-issuing bank, set by the network; (2) assessments and network fees — paid to Visa, Mastercard, Amex, or Discover; and (3) the Cumulus margin — transparent and fixed in your Merchant Services Agreement. Interchange rates vary by card type, merchant category, and processing method; a premium rewards card swiped in person carries different interchange than a non-rewards debit card entered online.

RISK AND PROTECTION

Security and PCI compliance

CONTROL	DETAILS
PCI DSS 4.0 (Level 1 service provider)	Cumulus undergoes annual Report on Compliance (ROC) by a Qualified Security Assessor. Attestation of Compliance (AOC) made available to merchants.
Point-to-Point Encryption (P2PE)	PCI-validated P2PE reduces merchant PCI scope and enables SAQ-P2PE-HW eligibility. All certified Cumulus terminals ship P2PE-ready.
EMV chip + contactless	Chip-and-PIN / chip-and-signature with NFC contactless (tap-to-pay). Shifts counterfeit liability from merchant to card issuer for chip-capable transactions.
Tokenization	Network-token (Visa / Mastercard) and Cumulus-vault tokens for card-on-file and recurring-payment use cases.
3-D Secure 2 (EMV 3DS)	Frictionless authentication for e-commerce; liability shift on authenticated CNP transactions. Supported on hosted payment page and Gateway API.
Fraud detection	Device fingerprinting, velocity rules, blacklist/whitelist, and ML-based risk scoring available via Gateway.
SOC 1 Type II / SOC 2 Type II	Annual independent examinations. Reports available via the Cumulus Governance portal.

SAQ SCOPE REDUCTION

Merchants using Cumulus P2PE-validated terminals typically qualify for the SAQ-P2PE-HW self-assessment — the smallest PCI SAQ — with approximately 30 questions versus 250+ for SAQ-D. Cumulus provides the SAQ and an AOC from our QSA to help you demonstrate compliance to your acquirer, auditor, or brand.

DISPUTE HANDLING

Chargeback management

- Self-service dispute dashboard — real-time notification of incoming chargebacks with reason codes, transaction detail, and representment deadline.
- Evidence templates — pre-configured compelling-evidence packages aligned to the most common reason codes (Goods or Services Not Received, Fraudulent Transaction, Product Not as Described).
- Representment workflow — upload evidence, submit through the network, track outcome, and auto-retry reversed chargebacks.
- Chargeback-ratio monitoring — alerts at 0.65% (network warning) and 0.90% (excessive chargeback thresholds); remediation guidance from Cumulus Risk team.
- Managed service (optional) — Cumulus Dispute Services handles representment on your behalf, billed on a win-contingent or fixed-fee basis.

COMMON QUESTIONS

Frequently asked questions

What is interchange-plus pricing, exactly?

Interchange-plus means each transaction is billed at three discrete layers: (1) the interchange rate set by the card network, passed through at cost; (2) assessments and network access fees, also passed through; and (3) the Cumulus margin, shown as a transparent fixed basis-point + per-transaction amount. This replaces opaque tiered plans where qualified, mid-qualified, and non-qualified pricing can mask the underlying cost drivers.

How is PCI compliance handled?

Cumulus is certified at Level 1 as a PCI DSS 4.0 service provider. Merchants must complete an annual Self-Assessment Questionnaire (SAQ) appropriate to their environment; Cumulus provides guidance and tooling. Merchants using Cumulus-validated P2PE terminals can typically use SAQ-P2PE-HW — the shortest SAQ at ~30 questions.

When do I receive funds?

Cumulus Business Checking clients receive same-day funding on batches settled by 8:00 p.m. ET. Batches settled later fund next business day. Merchants using external banks receive ACH-settled funds next business day. Weekend settlement is available as an optional add-on.

What happens with chargebacks?

Cumulus notifies you in the Merchant Portal within one business day of receiving a chargeback. You have the option to accept (loss posted) or represent with supporting evidence. Cumulus provides evidence templates for each reason code; our managed dispute service is available for higher-volume merchants.

Can I accept American Express?

Yes — through OptBlue, which provides a single merchant agreement, consolidated statement, and same-day funding for Amex transactions alongside Visa, Mastercard, and Discover. Direct Amex merchant agreements are also supported for merchants requiring higher-volume programs.

What if my processing volume grows substantially?

Cumulus re-prices merchant accounts annually and whenever volume exceeds a defined review threshold (typically 50% growth or $1M incremental annualized volume). Enterprise merchants processing $10M+ annually qualify for negotiated margins.
