RELATIONSHIP FRAME

Customer context

Use this when a business customer is opening a new Cumulus commercial relationship or implementing treasury services.

Commercial Onboarding Checklist is designed for business customer and implementation team use during the at relationship kickoff motion. The document should orient the owner, clarify the current relationship frame, and convert scattered signals into a practical plan that can be reviewed before customer contact.

The core content emphasizes implementation plan, treasury readiness, risk controls. These areas are intentionally operational: they help the commercial relationship manager understand what is known, what still needs validation, and which follow-up steps should be assigned before the relationship moves forward.

The document is not an automated decision record. It is a generated working draft that should be checked against the system of record, then refined by the banker, advisor, service specialist, or implementation owner who is accountable for the relationship.

Working posture Use this as a content-heavy planning document. It is meant to collect context, evidence, actions, and controls in one place before the owner decides what should become customer-facing language.
