RELATIONSHIP FRAME

Customer context

Use this after a case is closed or escalated so the customer receives consistent and accountable follow-up.

Retail Service Follow-Up is designed for retail service team use during the after complaint, case closure, or high-friction interaction motion. The document should orient the owner, clarify the current relationship frame, and convert scattered signals into a practical plan that can be reviewed before customer contact.

The core content emphasizes issue recap, follow-up commitments, retention lens. These areas are intentionally operational: they help the service manager understand what is known, what still needs validation, and which follow-up steps should be assigned before the relationship moves forward.

The document is not an automated decision record. It is a generated working draft that should be checked against the system of record, then refined by the banker, advisor, service specialist, or implementation owner who is accountable for the relationship.

Use this as a content-heavy planning document. It is meant to collect context, evidence, actions, and controls in one place before the owner decides what should become customer-facing language.
