RELATIONSHIP FRAME

Customer context

Use this as the advisor's internal recap after a discovery meeting with a wealth customer or prospect.

Wealth Discovery Summary is designed for wealth advisor use during the after first discovery meeting motion. The document should orient the owner, clarify the current relationship frame, and convert scattered signals into a practical plan that can be reviewed before customer contact.

The core content emphasizes goal inventory, household structure, planning gaps. These areas are intentionally operational: they help the wealth advisor understand what is known, what still needs validation, and which follow-up steps should be assigned before the relationship moves forward.

The document is not an automated decision record. It is a generated working draft that should be checked against the system of record, then refined by the banker, advisor, service specialist, or implementation owner who is accountable for the relationship.

Working posture

Use this as a content-heavy planning document. It is meant to collect context, evidence, actions, and controls in one place before the owner decides what should become customer-facing language.

Field	Value
Household scope	Primary client, spouse or partner, dependents, entities, and advisors
Planning posture	Discovery only; no investment recommendation
